Non-Tenure Track Position in the Department of Economics

The University of San Diego invites applications for one or more full-time contract (non tenure-track) positions in the School of Business beginning in Fall 2017. The initial appointment is for one year, with the possibility of renewal based on performance, department needs, and funding. Applications for post-doctoral appointments or a one-year Visiting Professor position will also be considered. The successful candidate will have a Ph.D. in Economics and is expected to be active in research and dedicated to teaching excellence and service in a liberal arts environment. Teaching areas will include principles, intermediate, and/or statistics for undergraduates, with the possibility of elective courses in the candidate's area of research and teaching interests.

A private, Catholic institution, the University of San Diego is an Equal Opportunity employer, and is especially interested in candidates who can contribute to the diversity and excellence of the academic community.

Applicants should submit the following: (1) a cover letter, (2) curriculum vita, (3) statements on teaching, (4) statements on research, (5) teaching evaluations, and (6) three letters of reference. Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until an appointment is made.
