Full Text of JOE Listing:

RAND's Economics, Sociology, and Statistics Department has openings for applied microeconomists at all experience levels. RAND economists have opportunities to develop policy-relevant research agendas across many research areas. We seek candidates with strong research potential or accomplishments in the areas of labor, defense, health, and aging. RAND economists have opportunities to teach policy PhD students at Pardee RAND Graduate School. More information about economics at RAND is available from <http://www.rand.org/economics/>.

Applicants should have a PhD by September 2021 and demonstrated research skills, a strong interest in policy-relevant empirical analysis, and excellent written and oral communication skills.

Locations: Santa Monica, CA; Arlington, VA; Pittsburgh, PA; Boston, MA

Applicants should submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, research paper, and three letters of recommendation at <https://econjobmarket.org/positions/6656>. Applications will be considered only through EconJobMarket; please don't apply at www.rand.org or by email. For more information, email: econrecruit@rand.org

Applications received by November 15, 2020, will be considered for virtual interviews starting January 6, 2021, after the 2021 ASSA/AEA meetings.
