Pitzer College invites applicants for a one or two year full-time visiting position beginning in July 2022. The teaching load is five courses per year over two semesters. Teaching one course in Microeconomic Theory each semester is required. Other courses will depend on instructor interest.

Qualified applicants will have an M.A. or Ph.D. and possess a strong commitment to teaching. Preference given to those with experience teaching Microeconomic Theory and willingness to teach using written problem sets and exams. Applications should be submitted to https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/21391. Please include a cover letter of interest, a curriculum vitae, recent teaching evaluations and/or other evidence of teaching excellence, and a diversity statement. A letter of recommendation is encouraged. Review of applications will begin on April 6 and continue until the position is filled.

Pitzer College, a member of the Claremont Colleges, is a small liberal arts college with a strong institutional commitment to diversity in all areas and strongly encourages candidates from underrepresented groups. We favor candidates who can contribute to the College’s distinctive educational objectives, which promote interdisciplinary perspectives, intercultural understanding, and concern with social responsibility and the ethical implications of knowledge and action.
