

Tenure-track Faculty Positions De La Salle University

The Department of Economics at De La Salle University in Manila, Philippines is inviting applicants for its tenure-track faculty positions commencing May 8, 2023.

Position: Assistant Professor/Associate Professor based in Manila, Philippines

Salary Level: Salary level will be competitive with Departments at peer institutions in the Philippines, and commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Aside from the competitive salary, benefits include research and publication incentives, research leaves (Service Leave or Sabbatical), and training and development opportunities.

Qualifications:

Candidates should have a PhD, or be close to obtaining a PhD, in economics, finance, or related fields by the start date. We are considering applications across all fields of economics with a preference for the fields of financial economics, industrial organization, and macroeconomics.

Research. Candidates must demonstrate good research potential in their fields of choice resulting in publications in reputable journals worldwide. They must be willing to work with undergraduate and graduate-level students for research mentorship.

Teaching. Candidates must demonstrate excellent written and oral communication skills, and are expected to handle classes at the undergraduate and graduate levels. Outcomes-Based Education is the main pedagogical framework of the University; faculty are encouraged to go beyond the requisite material and provide students with concepts and tools useful outside the University. English is the main medium of instruction.

Application Window:

Applications are open until December 15, 2022.

Application Requirements:

- Updated Curriculum Vitae
- Cover letter
- Research Statement
- Samples of scholarly output
- At least two Academic references

How to Apply: Email the application requirements to mariel.sauler@dlsu.edu.ph and anne.go@dlsu.edu.ph. You may also contact us through these emails for any queries on the role or the application process.

About De La Salle University

De La Salle University is a hub for higher education training renowned for its academic excellence, prolific and relevant research, and involved community service. It is a Catholic coeducational institution founded in 1911 by the Brothers of the Christian Schools.

Nestled in the heart of Manila, De La Salle University is home to local and international students seeking quality education for a brighter future ahead. It is situated in a vibrant city where culture and diversity are well manifested.

www.dlsu.edu.ph