Visiting Assistant Professor of Economics - 2024/25

The Department of Economics at the University of California, Riverside, invites applications for one or more Visiting Assistant Professors of Economics. Initial appointment will be for one year, beginning September 2024, with the possibility of reappointment dependent on budgetary approval. Responsibilities will include teaching undergraduate courses based on needs; engaging in professional and/or scholarly activities; participation in service to the department, college, university, and profession.

Applicants must be ABD or have met the requirements for the Ph.D. in Economics or related fields by the start of appointment and possess a strong commitment to teaching at the college level. The successful candidate must possess a proven record of teaching excellence beyond any experience they may have as teaching assistants. Approximate salary for a Visiting Assistant Professor is $99,100 dependent on qualifications and experience. This is a negotiated rate of pay and is not dependent on a UC salary scale.

Complete applications must include: a cover letter of interest, a current CV, samples of research work, teaching evaluations, a statement of contributions to diversity, and three letters of reference. Review of applications will begin on August 5, 2024 . Applications received by August 5 will receive full consideration.

Applicants who use Interfolio may utilize a feature provided by the Interfolio Service to allow Interfolio to upload their letters directly into AP Recruit. Applicants can input an Interfolio-generated email address in place of their letter writer's email address. Interfolio refers to this as Online Application Deliveries. The following link on the Interfolio website shows how to set this up (http://help.interfolio.com/entries/24062742-Uploading-Letters-toan-Online-Application-System).
